Santas raise hospice cash

by Lewis Berrill

havering@yellowad.co.uk

MORE than 230 Santas brought the magic of Christmas to Dagenham to raise money for Saint Francis Hospice.

The hospice hosted its 10th Santathon – a 5km charity run – at Dagenham and Redbridge Football Club.

Hospice patron Sir Trevor Brooking was on hand to encourage runners and hand out medals. He was joined by mayor of Redbridge, Cllr Debbie Kaur-Thiara, and mayor of Havering, Cllr Dilip Patel.

Zoe Ledger, of Romford, was taking part in her fifth Santathon and was running with her three children Adam, 11, Paul, three, and Eric, 17 months old.

She said: "We love it as it is something totally different for us to do and it is all for Saint Francis Hospice."

Rahana Islam, of the Daggers 88 running club, said: "Santathon is the highlight of our calendar."

"We really love it and joke that it is our main event of the year."

Fellow Daggers 88 club member Hannah Sheikh added: "We do club races all the time so it is nice just to take part for fun. There is always a wonderful atmosphere and passers-by and residents are so supportive; cars beep as you go past and people come out of their houses to cheer you on."

Everyone who took part received an exclusive medal as they passed the finish line. Special trophies were awarded to the fastest runners. Paul Grange and Rahana Islam were first to finish in the men and women's category and Paul's son Joseph was the winner of the under-16s.

Chris Franklin, events manager at the hospice, said: "We are very grateful to all our supporters who came out to make Santathon such a success."

"It is our most festive fun event and it was the perfect way for families, friends and colleagues to come together and raise money for Saint Francis Hospice. As a charity, we rely on our community to help us raise the £7.9million a year we need to fund our specialist end-of-life care services."

Council adopts international definition of anti-Semitism

THE International Holocaust Remembrance Alliance (IHRA) definition of anti-Semitism has been officially adopted by Waltham Forest Council.

The adoption on December 13 comes after months when the national Labour party and senior members were embroiled in an anti-Semitism row.

Waltham Forest Council is held by a Labour majority and the IHRA definition will now be written into the council's constitution in its code of conduct.

The IHRA defines anti-Semitism as "a certain perception of Jews, which may be expressed as hatred toward Jews. Rhetorical and physical manifestations of anti-Semitism are directed toward Jewish or non-Jewish individuals and/or their property, toward Jewish community institutions and religious facilities."

A total of 18 London boroughs have adopted the IHRA definition and the leaders' committee of London Councils has recommended all authorities consider adopting it.

CHILD cruelty charges against the world's "number one Michael Jackson impersonator" and four members of his family have been dropped.

Adrian Navindre Parasram, of Ilford, who performs under the name Navi, previously pleaded not guilty to five counts of child cruelty at Snaresbrook Crown Court on Monday, June 11.

The Crown Prosecution Service confirmed the case had been discontinued earlier this month.

A CPS spokesperson said: "The CPS has kept under careful review the evidenance relating to these allegations of abuse.

"After careful consideration and in accordance with our duty of continuous review we have decided that the case no longer meets the evidential test.

"The complainants involved have been informed and provided with a full explanation in writing."

The case against Navi's father, Tony Raghesham Parasram, was dropped following his death - aged 80 - on October 29 this year.

He had been charged with seven counts of child cruelty and five counts of indecent assault on a boy under 16.

Navi took to Facebook to release a statement following the news.

He said: "This has been a difficult time for my family and I but we stood strong in our faith and our focus to deal with this matter."

Rajpati Parasram, Clyde Mahindra Parasram, and Anthony Ravindra Parasram, all had multiple child cruelty charges dropped.

Nurse recognised for her 27 years' service to NHS

A NURSE has been named a lifetime achievement winner for the NHS trust which runs Queen's and King George hospitals.

On December 10 and 11, Barking, Havering, and Redbrige University Hospitals NHS Trust held its Long Service and Pride Awards ceremonies.

The annual awards recognise staff, who have worked at the trust for 20, 30 and 40 years, as well as awarding those who have gone above and beyond in their role.

Nurse Caroline Moore was the winner of the Lifetime Achievement Award after a career at the trust spanning 27 years. The 56-year-old, now a director of nursing, has spent her entire career as a nurse.

She said: "I was chuffed to be nominated and I didn't find out who had put me forward until afterwards.

"When I found out it was my own team I felt incredibly proud. I love what I do and I come in to try and do a good job, as we all should.

"I was flattered and delighted to win, however, there are many others who deserve it too, who are committed to our trust."
